This list of Cemetery Veteran Names of the Town of Marshfield, Ma was done by walking through each Cemetery listing the names and by using all available public information.

There are fifteen Cemeteries' with in the Town of Marshfield and there are also some cemetery tombs that I have not gotten into but they are out there. These can be found in property deeds, and wills of property owners, like the Macomber tomb (off Summer Street), Ames tomb (off Church Street), Thomas tomb (Off King Phillips Path) White tomb (off Pleasant Street), and at one time there was a tomb on South River Road.

There were about fifty graves that I could not find and there some markers that were un-readable. But worst then that some of these cemetery's are in a very sad state of conditions.

There are broken grave markers, trees and branches on the cemetery markers and etc. This is not right and I would ask the Town to look into this matter out of respect for all of those that have passed, spouses, children and not for just the Veterans that are buried there.

Researching for Marshfield residence, Cemetery's in North Pembroke, Ma should also be checked because at one time Marshfield own that land and there could be someone that you are looking for buried there.

There are two Cemeteries' just over the Marshfield/Pembroke line.

There are dates listed in June of the current year 2002 in these Cemetery's, but I have backdated this list to May - 2002. The reason for this is for who ever wants to up date this list in the future the date to begin at should be June 1, 2002.

Notes:

Future up dating of this list, the date that should be used to start is June 1, 2002. General Public, please feel free to revise or correct this list.

I have added some of the old names of areas to help anyone who is researching here in Marshfield, and also the Cedar Grove Cemetery started out as the Congregational Cemetery. The small Cemetery on Ocean Street also has a name the Chapel Cemetery.

There maybe omissions or errors in this research. I have done the best I can do to establish these records using all reference possible of public information for educational purposes for the Towns people to use.
